Dear Emory,

Glad to hear from you.

If your friend who videotaped the assassins can recover and make pictures there are two I could use as 35 mm slides for appearances. One is the Dox rendition of the rear non-fatal wound, the other her's of the tracheostomy. Oh yes, and important, their enhancement of the skull X-ray showing the four or so in-line fragments. They enhances the smallest fragments into the memory hole.

The committee has not worn me down because it has not surprised me. Taking time for the broadcasts did tire me a bit because I also tried to keep up with other things.

I'm pretty good, thanks, and exult in being able to do what I could not this time last year. I'm not a youth of 60 any more, alas, though.

Right now I'm a bit stiff from a hard fall today. I'm enjoined against it but it happened when I was walking briskly. No serious injuries. Only aches and stiffness to increase.

Best wishes,
